

FISCAL USE OF STAMPS

(and other non-postal use of stamps and postal markings)

Stefan Heijtz

The background features several Falkland Islands postage stamps. One prominent stamp is cancelled with a date stamp '78 JUN 1984'. The stamps are arranged in a grid-like pattern, with some overlapping. The text 'FALKLAND ISLANDS' is visible on the stamps. The overall image is semi-transparent and serves as a background for the text.

FISCAL USAGE OF STAMPS

The earliest recorded fiscal usages of Falkland Islands stamps are from around the turn of the century. Stamps were used for certain stamp duties and Government fees as well as Customs duties. Many high values were used for stamp duty purposes but the fees could range from as little as ½d. to many Pounds. In 1898 the fee for a marriage licence was 2s.6d. and for this reason the Queen Victoria 2s.6d. stamp was issued. By 1904 this fee had increased to 3s. so when the King Edward VII stamps were issued there was a 3s. value instead. In 1920 the fee to register a birth was 2s.6d. Between 1948 and 1961 there was a 2d. stamp duty on all receipts of £2 or more, which was paid with stamps. All stamp duties were abolished in 1991. Fiscally used stamps are either cancelled with a Government Department cachet, often oval and applied in purple, or pen-cancelled and some have holes punched through them.

CUSTOMS FALKLANDS datestamps

Customs duties and fees were often paid with stamps, and these could be cancelled with one of the CUSTOMS FALKLANDS datestamps. At times bisected 1d. stamps were used for that purpose as well.

NEW ISLAND - SHIPPING OFFICE marking (N.3)

This marking was used on stamps paying certain shipping or customs fees. Only four examples are known, all on $\frac{1}{2}$ d. stamps which corresponds with the Customs handling fee.

SOUTH GEORGIA - The SOUTH GEORGIA. imprint (SGU1)

This marking was also used on stamps and documents for fiscal purposes. The $\frac{1}{2}$ d. corresponds with the Customs handling fee, and the 10/- with the Clearance fee for departing ships.

SOUTH GEORGIA - CUSTOMS S.Georgia FALKLANDS marking

Customs duties and fees were often paid with stamps and this marking was in use at least between 1910 and 1915. For a long time there was a handling fee of $\frac{1}{2}$ d. so because of that $\frac{1}{2}$ d. stamps are the ones most frequently seen.

SOUTH GEORGIA - CUSTOMS SO. GEORGIA datestamp

This datestamp has been seen used on KGV stamps and the values recorded so far are $\frac{1}{2}$ d. and 10/- which corresponds with the handling fee, and the Clearance fee for departing ships.

SOUTH GEORGIA - STAMP DUTY 2d. on receipts

It is not known if the Falkland Islands 2d. stamp duty, in force between 1948 and 1961, was also used in the Dependencies, but at least one Dependencies 2d. stamp is known to have been used on a payment of accounts for wireless messages home during the 1946-47 season.

The manuscript on the stamp is: "(Recei)ved above £10-12-0 Thanks J John...".

SOUTH GEORGIA - MAGISTRATE

Document with KGVI Maps 6d.(x4) and 1/- (x4) impressed with a seal "MAGISTRATE + SOUTH GEORGIA". The document is undated and it is not known for what purpose the fee 6/- was paid.

SOUTH SHETLANDS - DECEPTION ISLAND datestamp (B1)

Fiscally used stamps are not known from the South Shetlands, but a number of more or less official documents are known with examples of the Deception Island datestamp (B1).

Dear George

It is a very good job you did not come, for this is so far the rottenest season I have seen, & there is some Hvalsyk. Mind, Ronald has not yet 7,000 & near the end of January. No Blue whales, a few "Myrbjörnes" averages about 42-45, ^{per whale was} & for the last month not 30 per whale.
